

What's hot in Prehistory. Quaternary, Human Evolution and Palaeoecology (QHEP)

Thursday, 10 Nov

Where: (To be confirmed)

8.30-09.00: Accreditation

9:00-9:30: "Introduction to the International Doctoral Net on Quaternary, Human Evolution and Palaeoecology (QHEP)"

Robert Sala, URV-IPHES.

9:30-10:00: "A global view on doctoral formation from the eastern gates of Europe"

David Lordkipanidze, State Museum of Georgia. Republic of Georgia.

10:00-10:30: "The current networks in Southeast Asia and its connection to European ones: the IndoPacific-Europe cooperation"

Eusebio Dizon, University of Philippines. Philippines.

François Sémah, Muséum National d'Histoire Naturelle. France.

10:30-11:00: Coffee break.

11 :00-11:30 : "L'intérêt de l'Institut d'Archéologie d'Alger et l'Université d'Alger 2 par la formation en recherche et la mobilité"

Kader Derradji, Institut d'Archéologie d'Alger. Université d'Alger 2.

11:30-12:00: "British PhD programmes and interinstitutional collaboration"

Nicholas Ashton., Curator of Palaeolithic and Mesolithic Collections. The British Museum.

12:00-12:30: “The research program of the IPHES and its interest on an International Campus”

Jordi Agustí, IPHES.

12:30-13:00: “The socialization of science and heritage: a way for R+D in Human Evolution archaeology”

Lluís Batista, IPHES.

13:00-13:30: “The didactics of human evolution archaeology: the cases of Atapuerca and Orce”

Isabel Boj, Schola Didàctica Activa,S.L.

13.30-16.00: Lunch

16:00-16:30: “Exploring the future ways into the European Programs for QHEP net”

Luiz Oosterbeek, Instituto Politécnico de Tomar. Portugal.

François Sémah, Muséum National d’Histoire Naturelle. France.

Ignasi Pastó, IPHES.

16:30-17:00 : Conclusion and closure

Participants: Carlo Peretto, Luiz Oosterbeek, François Sémah, Nick Ashton, Eusebio Dizon, Kader Derradji, David Lordkipanidze, Jordi Agustí, Ethel Allué, Isabel Boj, Lluís Batista, Carlos Lorenzo, Ignasi Pastó, Robert Sala. RD allies.